The side-mount and detachable temporary mounting options make the installation on trucks simple and straightforward. Much like the Qualcomm, and unlike any other Mobile Satellite Antenna, the Vu Qube mounts to the back of the cab rather than on top. The Vu Qube and bracket fit behind the top and side faring, making it easy to install on all types of trucks regardless of the shape. There is also an option for a non-permanent window mount that takes only minutes to install once you reach your destination

Drive time to show time in no time

Just mount the Vu Qube's satellite antenna and run a coax to your Dish Network Satellite box, or your DirecTV box, or your Bell ExpressVu box. Use the remote to position the Vu

Qube's satellite TV antenna and sit back and relax. And no, it is not hard to position the Satellite TV antenna. Wallace's intuitive design of the FastFind wireless remote make it a snap to lock on to a satellite signal.

I love the system! For 7 years i ran a pole up and down in lightening and rain. With the VuQube I can get a signal in 1 minute from inside my truck. It's so easy. Heaven Sent.
